New Instructors

Barbara Goertz

Born and raised in southeastern Pennsylvania, Barbara's childhood passions were working with fiber, sketching and painting. Barbara's travels landed her and her son in the coastal community of Bella Coola, BC, where she dabbled in a variety of fiber arts, "and even a bit of woodworking". Most recently, beadwork has become her passion.

Rebecca Young

Rebecca earned her diplomas in Digital Animation and Multi Media in Victoria, BC in 2004, a diploma in fine art from North Island College in 2008 and most recently her BFA from Emily Carr University. She loves to experiment in creating art in many different media and has a passion for abstract painting, sculpture, ceramics and jewelry design.

Candace Holmes

Candace attended art school in upstate New York until the Vietnam war instigated a move to Vancouver, where she finished her studies at Vancouver Community College and UBC. Since retiring as an elementary schoolteacher in 1994, Candy has devoted her time to art, which has included work for the United Nations as a graphic artist.
